

How to Make Seed Bombs

4 oz or $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of packed air-dry clay
4 oz or $\frac{3}{4}$ cup of compost
1 tbs of wildflower seed mix

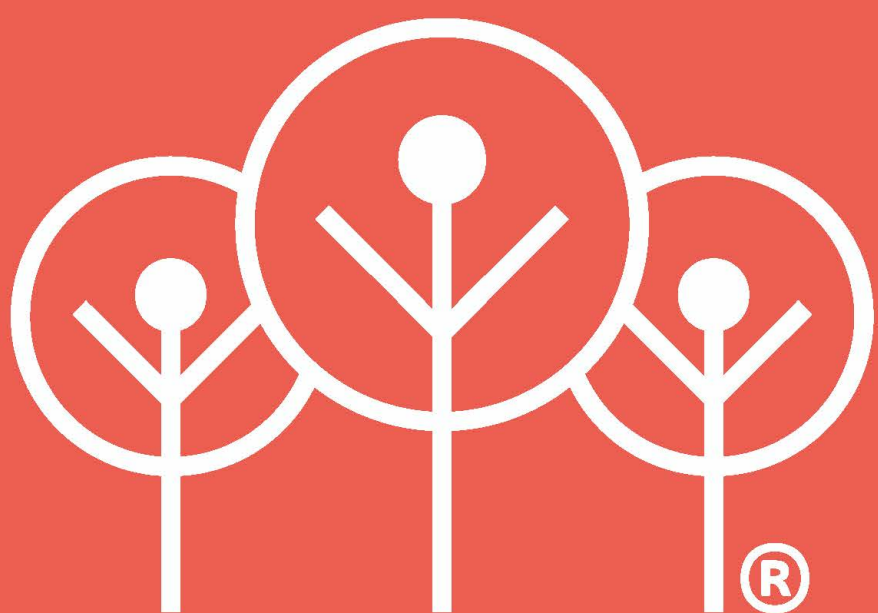

Mold and knead the clay and soil mixture.
Add a little water if your mixture is too dry.
The mixture should be moist but not dripping.

Flatten out the clay and soil mixture into a pancake then add the seeds.
Thoroughly work the materials together with your hands disbursing the seeds evenly.

Shape the mixture into a ball or a creative molded shape.
Store in a cool dry place until ready to deploy or plant in areas requiring revegetating.
